We all have small votives and other special pots around the house. Take the time and let the simple things speak for you. Done correctly, A few small clusters of this or that will always seem like more than what it actually is. This simple set of six cube vases, contains our own harvested crabapples, physallis and jade hydrangeas, and can be made for about the price of a dozen roses at the supermarket.

What do you think your wife would prefer to receive?
